Proud Heritage

Working for tomorrow since 1888!

We're no strangers to the workspace. For over 130 years, we've been designing products that are focused on the future.

We've seen the world of work change: from manufacturing some of the first office solutions to now developing mobile desking, storage and walls that help you work the way you want — we've seen it all.

Who we are

We feel that you should be free to work your way, without restrictions. We believe in building for tomorrow; finding answers to questions you didn't even know you had, and that beauty should not limit function.

We're a collection of dreamers and problem solvers with a passion for creating spaces with endless possibilities.

Inspired by today. Built for tomorrow.

Why should your goals be limited by the size of the space you're in? We understand the only thing constant is change so we invest in the innovation today that helps you do your best work tomorrow.

Our products work together and are easily adapted to better serve your needs — whatever they may be. This means people are free to work on their own terms and you can invest knowing your office won't hold you back. Anything is possible with Inscape.

People evolve. So should spaces.

Who will you be tomorrow? There's no way to predict how our business can change over the course of a day, let alone years.

In 10 years time, offices that once needed cubicles may need more mobile solutions; small businesses could flourish and double or triple their workforce; and companies that were once office based may evolve and reconfigure their workspace to support hotelling stations and mobile workforces.

With our product line the only limit is your imagination, not your budget.
